

My name is Miguel Angel Aldrete, but people call me Mike. This is my second full year of teaching; both of them have been as the 8th grade ESOL teacher here at Comanche Middle School. My undergraduate degree is in Biochemistry from Kansas State University. In 2015, I received my licensure through Newman University and last year I started work on a Master's degree in education. Teaching is one of my passions; my other passion is caffeine preferably in coffee or tea form.
